

Apple Picking Time

Songs and Poems by Cherry Carl
Artwork Licensed by www.art4crafts.com

Have an Apple!

Cherry Carl

Have an apple, fresh and sweet.

Oh, my goodness, what a treat!

Slice it up to eat with cheese,
or peanut butter, if you please.

Eat it baked or eat it fried,
or try some chips that have been dried.

Apple butter's good on toast,
but apple strudel makes me boast that Grandma makes the very best!

It's so much better than the rest!

It's Apple Picking Time!

Cherry Carl Artwork: art4crafts.com

Grab your basket, make it quick!

Autumn's here. It's time to pick apples that are green and red and ready for the pies ahead!

We have to pick them all by hand

(because they bruise, I understand).

The sun and rain and busy bees have done their work on apple trees.

So pick a dozen, maybe two.

We'll bake some pies when we are through!

Johnny Appleseed

(Tune: The Mulberry Bush or Yankee Doodle)

Cherry Carl Artwork: www.toonclipart.com

Johnny, Johnny Appleseed

thought he saw a great big need.

He walked across the U.S.A.,

spreading seeds along the way.

Thanks to his amazing deed,

trees began to grow with speed.

Apples, apples everywhere,

enough to feed and enough to share!

