This book belongs to

________________________

This book belongs to

________________________
What would we see if we were to go for a walk in the woods in November?
What will we see in the tall, tall trees...

What will we see in the tall, tall trees...
and under the leaves on the ground?
If we look up high into the tops of the trees, what do we see? We see so many gray squirrels getting ready for the winter.
We see many colored leaves on the ground.
We can see acorns and pinecones under the leaves. It must be fall!